

Map showing the location of the main volcanoes (top); map to mark targets representing the locations of earthquake epicenters (bottom)

Map showing the location of some of the most important seismic areas (above); map to mark targets representing the locations of the most important volcanoes (bottom)